The St. Anthony Avenue Trail (alternately known as the St. Anthony Fitness Trail/St. Avenue Walking Path) is a neighborhood walking

The St. Anthony Avenue Trail (alternately known as the St. Anthony Fitness Trail/ St. Avenue Walking Path) is a neighborhood walking and biking trail in the Gentilly neighborhood of New Orleans. Rather than sitting on one side of the street or the other, the trail is nestled within the grassy median. It's a straight-shot, leading from Mirabeau Avenue to Leon C. Simon Drive, where users can access Benjamin Franklin High School as well as the University of New Orleans campus. Aside from acting as a commuter path to the schools, the trail also gives residents an opportunity to get outside and get some physical activity in.

Note that there are several street intersections along the trail route. While there are stop signs for vehicles, be sure to approach these crossing points with caution.
