Civitan Park Trail

Alabama

Civitan Park Trail is a paved, multiuse trail that connects multiple parks, recreational amenities, and community resources in bridge. The northern end of the trail runs by the Trussville Sports Complex and its numerous athletic fields.

Civitan Park Trail is a paved, multiuse trail that connects multiple parks, recreational amenities, and community resources in Trussville. The trail is included in the Red Rock Trail System, a developing 750-mile network of multiuse trails in Jefferson County.

Its southern trailhead is located at Trussville Veterans' Memorial Park and the former site of "Slagheap Village." Heading north, the trail follows the Cahaba River through lightly wooded areas. Spur trails connect the route with Masonic Park, Masonic Park Playground (137 Parkway Dr), the Trussville Swimming Pool, the Trussville Public Library (201 Parkway Dr), and Cahaba Elementary. The trail passes by the Trussville Senior Center, a disc golf course, and the Cahaba Dog Park (531 Cherokee Dr), which is accessible from the trail via the Cherokee Drive
