The Black Pond Trail itself is short but it can be linked with other trails that run through the forest in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, just northeast of Lincoln. Specifically, the Black Pond Trail makes a nice loop when combined with the Lincoln Woods Trail and the Franconia Brook Trail. Together, the trails offer scenic mountain views, a beautiful waterfall and woodland adventure.

Pick up the southern trailhead from the Lincoln Woods Trail and head north through dense forest to Black Pond.
