Although less than 1 mile long, the Dobbs Trail offers an important connection between two of Terre Haute's most popular parks, Deming and Dobbs. It follows Poplar Drive, a tree-lined residential street, for most of its route.

At 177 acres, Deming Park is the city's largest, offering a playground, arboretum, disc golf course, public pool and athletic facilities. No less enjoyable is Dobbs Memorial Park with its nature center, Native American Museum, pond, butterfly garden and thick forests.
