

2024

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Good Link Trail
Texas

Good Link Trail

Texas

The Good Link Trail is a 4.8-mile multiuse pathway in Grand Prairie, Texas. The trail is anchored by two parks on either end:

The Good Link Trail is a 4.8-mile multiuse pathway in Grand Prairie, Texas. The trail is anchored by two parks on either end: Mike Lewis Park in the north and C.P. Waggoner Park in the south. While paved along most of its length, the trail also features boardwalk as well as a 270-foot bridge over Johnson Creek.

Future plans will see this trail extended to Fort Worth but those are still in the early stages. A more immediate improvement will be extend the trail across the Trinity River. That 2-year project is expected to start in 2018.

Good Link Trail

Texas

States: Texas

Counties: Dallas

Length: 4.8 miles

Trail end points: Mike Lewis Park to CP
Waggoner Park

Trail surfaces: Concrete

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Walking

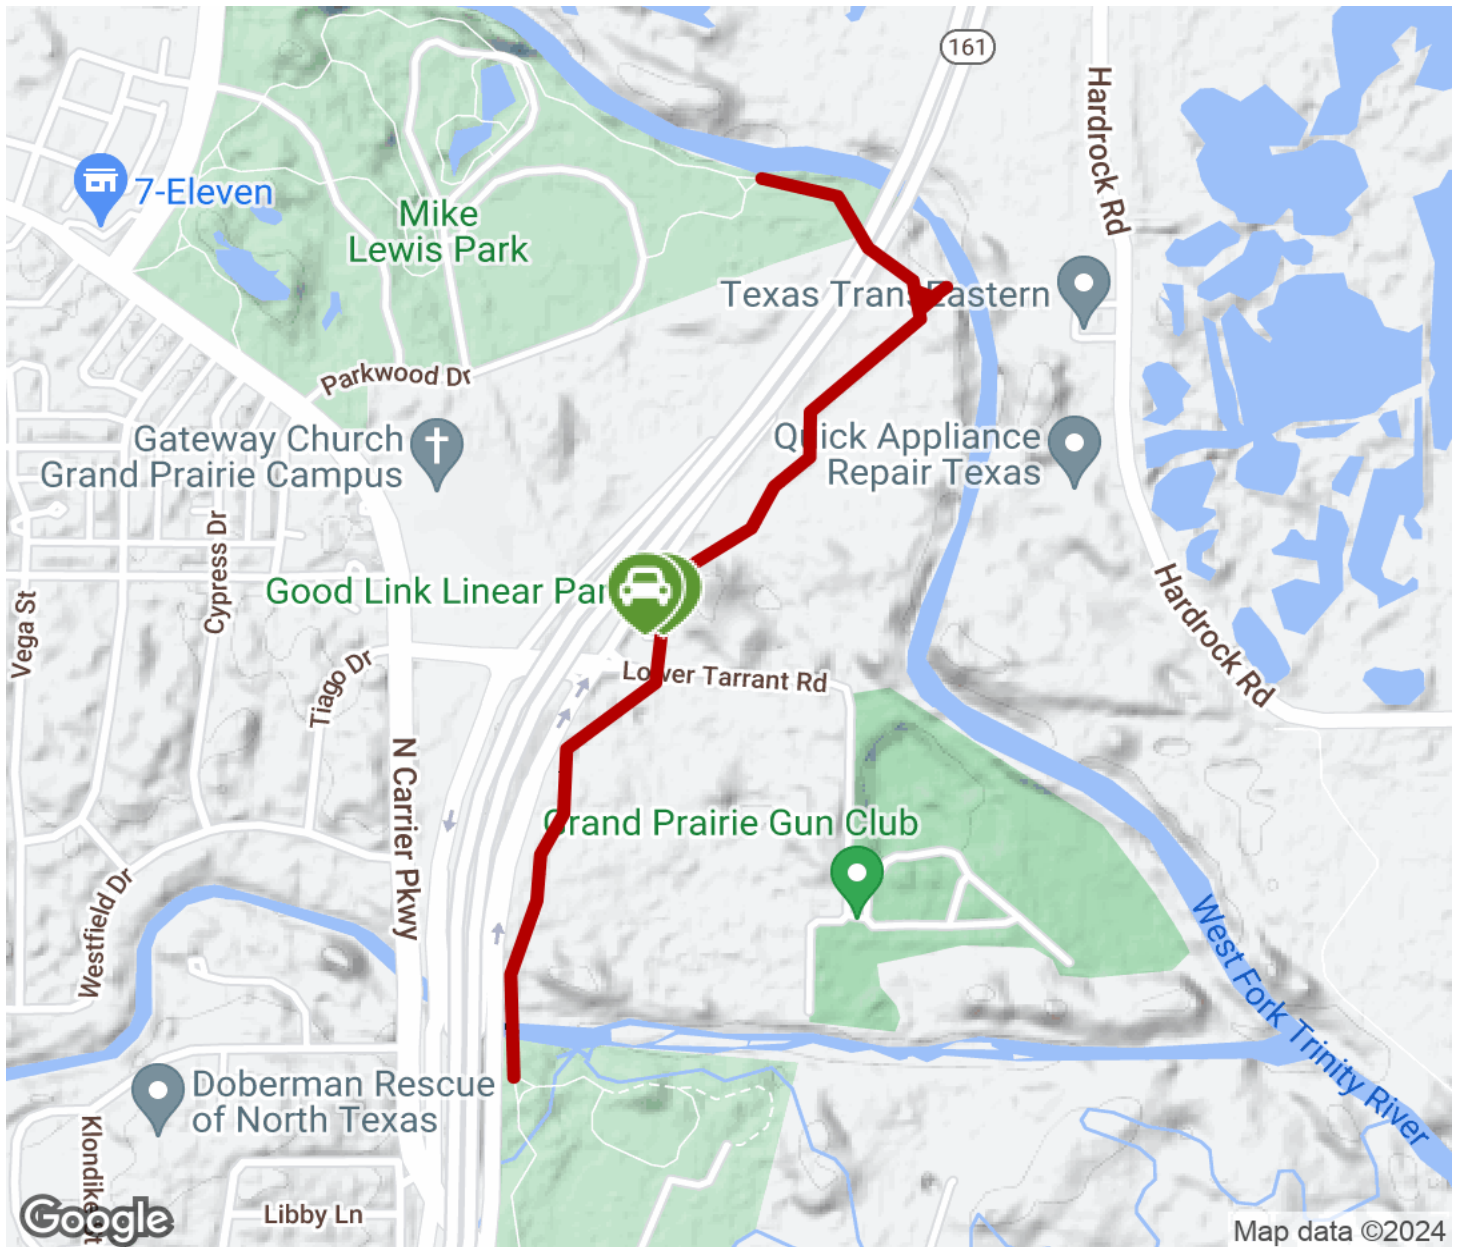

Parking & Trail Access

You can park at the southern trailhead in C.P. Waggoner Park, where you can also find restrooms and a water fountain. If starting from the north end, park at the Mike Lewis Park, where amenities include pavilions, picnic tables, athletic fields, and restrooms.

Good Link Trail

Texas

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com